Budget Direct Pet Insurance

Target Market Determination

Effective Date: 19 July 2024

About this Document

This Target Market Determination (TMD) is designed to provide information about the Budget Direct Pet Insurance product. Its purpose is to explain the class of customers that comprise the target market, and how the product is distributed. It also contains information about reporting obligations of our Distributors and when the TMD will be reviewed.

The TMD is not a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS), nor is it a summary of the terms and conditions or acceptance criteria for the product. The information contained in the TMD constitutes general advice only and does not consider any specific customer's circumstances, objectives, needs or financial situation. Customers should review the PDS and any applicable Supplementary PDS (SPDS) for full terms and conditions, including benefits, exclusions and limits that apply, before deciding to purchase the product.

This product is issued by Auto & General Insurance Company Limited (AFSL 285571) (also referred to in this document as "AGIC", "us", "we" and "our").

- is a breed of dog or cat banned from ownership in Australia or in a customer's state of residence.
- has been declared a dangerous dog by an authorised council officer or local court.

The cover provided by the product, including details of the various types of cover and options, is subject to the terms and conditions, limits, sub-limits, excess and exclusions as set out in the PDS, any applicable SPDS and Policy Schedule.

Eligibility criteria determine whether a customer, who may be in the target market, would be offered the product, such as the type of animal, its breed, and/or its age.

Likely Financial Situation of the Target Market

Customers in the target market can afford to pay:

- the premium, including applicable fees and government charges, indicated for the type of cover and option(s) chosen, which may increase from year to year,
- upfront costs for policy benefits and/or options that, when claimed on, may be settled on a reimbursement basis,
- the applicable excess and co-payment that may apply at the time of a claim,
- pets' veterinary expenses upfront prior to claiming eligible expenses back via the reimbursement model offered via this product, and
- any veterinary expenses above the benefit percentage, overall annual limit and benefit sub-limits.

Customers may be able to adjust the premium they pay by tailoring the policy cover to suit their own circumstances, objectives, needs and financial situation. Where available, this may be done by:

- choosing the type of cover that comes with different levels of policy limit and sub-limits,
- adjusting the excess amount,
- choosing whether to pay annually or by instalments, and/or
- adding or removing available optional cover(s).
- Eligibility criteria may apply.

Consistency Between the Product and Target Market

Based on the assessment of this product, including its key attributes, the issuer considers this product to likely be consistent with the outlined objectives, needs and financial situation of the target market.

Consumer research, analysis of customer feedback, and monitoring of 'Review Triggers' are undertaken to ensure the product is suitable and of value to customers in the target market.

Distribution of this Product

The product is distributed through the following channels:

Application Process	Our Distributors
Online.Telephone.	 Pet Health Insurance Service Pty Ltd (PHIS), acting under binder with AGIC. Authorised Representatives of AGIC. Australian Financial Service Licensees with arrangements with PHIS or AGIC.

Distribution Conditions

The below distribution conditions would make it likely that the customers who are offered the product are in the target market.

All staff authorised to sell our products are trained to understand the key product attributes and the target market for the products that they sell. A selection of sales is reviewed each month to ensure compliance with approved sales processes. Any breaches identified are recorded and remedial training is provided to sales representatives as required. Any customer remediation that may be required is also carried out.

The application process includes specific questions, disclosures, scripting and embedded acceptance and underwriting criteria aimed at assessing customers' eligibility and reducing the likelihood of the product being sold to a customer who falls outside our target market. All customers will be informed of whether they are eligible to purchase our product as part of the application process.

Reporting and Monitoring this TMD

Our Distributors of the product are required to report the following to us as soon as practicable after becoming aware of the information and within 10 business days:

Complaints	The number and detail of complaints received in relation to the product.
Significant Dealings	Actual or potential significant dealings in relation to the product that is not consistent with the TMD. This would include, but is not limited to, selling the product to customers outside of the target market.
Distribution information	Any potential or actual issue of the product to a customer in breach of the distribution conditions or otherwise outside of the target market. Information that suggests that, if the product is issued to customers in the target market, it may not be consistent with the likely objectives, needs and financial situation of those customers.

Reviewing the TMD

We will review this TMD as follows:

Initial review: By 18 July 2025.

Subsequent reviews: At least once every two years after the end of the previous review.

Significant impact review: Within one year of the TMD being updated due to a significant dealing outside of the target market, a material change to the product or a triggered review.

Triggered reviews: We will also review the TMD where an event or circumstance occurs that may suggest that the TMD is no longer appropriate ('Review Triggers'), as follows:

Review Triggers

- Material changes to the cover provided by the product, such as expansion or reduction in cover.
- Changes to acceptance or underwriting criteria which may impact the suitability of the product for the target market.
- Customer complaints and feedback which may indicate the product is not meeting the needs of the target market.
- Material increases over expected claims rejection rates.
- Compliance incidents and breaches which may indicate the product is not being correctly sold to its target market, or expected benefits are not being provided to the target market.
- Changes to how or by whom the product is distributed which may impact who the product is sold to.
- Concerns raised by our Distributors in relation to ensuring the product is only being sold to customers within the target market.
- Concerns raised by a regulator in relation to product design and distribution obligations.
- Material changes to expected results in relation to quote to sales conversion, mid-term cancellations and renewal lapses.
- Material decreases against expected claims ratio which may indicate the product is no longer providing an acceptable level of value to the target market.
- Systemic issues discovered within the product lifecycle or distribution of the product.
- Any significant dealing outside the determined target market is detected.
